

Legionnaires Entertain Hundred Guests

Grayling American Legion Post No. 106 entertained some 100 guests including members of the Legion and Auxiliary of the 10th district at a lively meeting Saturday afternoon and evening. There were representatives from 12 Posts, with a large delegation from Bay City. It was the mid-summer meeting and the order of business was the nomination of district officers for the Legion and the election of officers for the Auxiliary.

Preceding the meetings there was a fine banquet at the Michelson Memorial church, that was immensely enjoyed. It was served by the Junior Ladies Aid society and they received many nice compliments on its excellence. Presiding at the banquet table as toastmaster was Earl Wood, past commander of Grayling Post, who called upon Post Commander John McMillan who welcomed the assemblage on behalf of the Legion; Mrs. Samuel Rasmussen, president of the Auxiliary, welcomed the Auxiliary ladies. Rev. Hans Juhl gave the invocation and Charles Moore, City attorney, said a few words of greeting in behalf of the City. Others who were introduced by Toastmaster Woods were: Lehr Doherty, Coleman; Conrad Walker, Clare; Carl Smith, past state commander, E. J. Donoghue and Leslie Kefgen, Bay City; Ernest Andrews, district committeeman, West Branch; Alfred Hanson and Otto Failing, Grayling. Calling on Mrs. E. J. Donoghue, district president of the Auxiliary, she in turn introduced Mrs. Daniel Baker, district secretary, Bay City, and Miss Nell Wiley, district treasurer, Mt. Pleasant.

Both business meetings were held after the banquet, the delegates from each post meeting at the Court house, and the ladies assembled at the Legion hall. Nominations for district officers at the men's meeting at which Committeeman Andrews presided, were as follows: Conrad Walker, Clare, and Fred Marks, Prudenville, for committeemen; E. J. Donoghue, Bay City, vice president; John Mielock, East Tawas, Adjutant; Ed Oliver, West Branch, sergeant-at-arms, and William Griffin, Blanchard, finance officer. The election for these officers is set to be held at the district meeting at West Branch on July 24.

President Mrs. E. J. Donoghue presiding at the ladies meeting, gave the call for election of district officers with the following result: Miss Nell Wiley, Mt. Pleasant, president; Mrs. Louis Meyers, St. Helen, vice president and Mrs. Gordon Smith, Mio, treasurer. Other Auxiliary officers are appointive and will be named later. Following the ladies' election a Fidac program was enjoyed, Mrs. Edwin Hamann of Mio, giving an interesting talk on Rumania. Illustrating her talk Mrs. Earl Dawson, West Branch, Mrs. Edith Flett, Prudenville, appeared in the native dress of Rumania.

The business meetings over, the crowd enjoyed dancing at the hall until early the following morning. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves very much and it was one of the most pleasant crowds Grayling Post has had the pleasure of being host to.

Mrs. P. Rasmussen Passed Away

Mrs. Peter Rasmussen, who had been one of Grayling's estimable residents for over half a century, passed away at Mercy Hospital, Friday morning shortly before 7:00 o'clock, following a short illness. Mrs. Rasmussen had been in failing health for several months, however she was loathe to give up. Being very particular about her home it had to be cared for, no matter what came, and her flower garden showed she had put in long hours for it is a picture with its many lovely blooms.

Jensigne Boeson was born April 9, 1886 in Kipping, Falster, Denmark, and when she was 22 years old she came to America with the late Mr. and Mrs. Chris Schow. Her brother the late Torkild Boeson, was living here at the time, and some time later they were joined by their father. The young woman worked as domestic for Mrs. Rasmus Hanson until her marriage on July 13, 1889 to Peter Rasmussen. They would have celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary on July 13th of this year. One son Einer was born to the union, who was the bride and joy of his parents. Mrs. Rasmussen was often heard to say she was happiest when her son was at her side.

Back in 1895 while Mrs. Rasmussen and son Einer who was then five years old were on a trip to her native home in Denmark, there was the disastrous fire that burned the Salling Hanson Co. lumber yards. All the homes along the one street which would be the east side of U. S. 27, were burned and their home was among them. Returning from their trip they moved into the house on Ionia street which has since been the family home.

Mrs. Rasmussen had always been a very loyal member of the Danish Lutheran church and of the Danish Ladies Aid society. During her younger days she was among the many ardent workers in the church, always to be relied upon to do her share of working and giving. Mrs. Rasmussen was very interesting and could tell you many things about the good old days in Grayling. She was very kind hearted and those who knew her best were aware of the many other fine qualities she possessed.

Funeral services were held at the home Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and at 2:00 o'clock at Danish Lutheran church, Rev. Hans Juhl officiating. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery, with the following acting as pallbearers: Johannes Rasmussen, Hans Petersen, Holger F. Peterson, Samuel Rasmussen, Chris Johnson and Algot Johnson. Rev. Juhl took for his text the Epistle to the Hebrews, the first half of the chapter "There is another Sabbath rest for the people of God." Friends of many years standing were present at the last rites.

Surviving the deceased besides her husband are her son Einer and eight grandchildren. Among those from out of town present included Mr. and Mrs. Einer Rasmussen and daughter Betty of Marlette; Holger Hanson, Ypsilanti; Hans Peter Arentzen, Torkel Williamson, Mrs. Hilda Sorenson and son Karl, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Campbell, Mt. Pleasant. Mr. Rasmussen and son and family have the sympathy of many friends in their sad bereavement.

JOHNSON-COBB RITES READ IN OHIO

Miss Christina Cobb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cobb, Grayling, and Mr. William A. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Johnson of Roscommon were married Saturday, June 24th, in Bryan, Ohio. The ceremony, a ring service, was solemnized at the noon hour at the parsonage of the First Methodist church in that city, the Rev. C. E. Winttingham, pastor, presiding. Mrs. Winttingham and son Elwin were present at the ceremony and the newlyweds were guests of the family at tea later.

Satin back taffeta in a pretty shade of blue and made with a bolero jacket was worn by the pretty bride. With it she wore a small white hat trimmed with tiny blue flowers to match her gown, and her accessories were white. Completing her costume was an arm bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, tied with white satin ribbon. For traveling the bride wore a suit of fuchsia silk, with accessories of the same shade.

Returning to Grayling Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are spending a few days with the bride's parents before moving into their new home at Higgins Lake, that the groom recently built, and where they will be at home after July 15.

The bride is a graduate of St. Louis High school and came to Grayling from that place five years ago. The groom has lived in Roscommon most of his life and although a carpenter by trade, beginning July 1st he will serve as mail carrier on a star route out of Roscommon.

HAD BREAKFAST AT JOHN- SON'S RUSTIC TAVERN

A district East Michigan Tourist association meeting of officers and members was held at Houghton Lake Saturday and was concluded Sunday morning with a group breakfast at Johnson's Rustic Tavern. There were 72 to sit down at the tables.

Following the breakfast 17 of the members of the group came to Grayling and embarked on a canoe trip down the AuSable river. The trip was made in six canoes, leaving Grayling at 2:00 p. m. and concluding at Stephen's bridge where a picnic luncheon was enjoyed.

Such a trip is always delightful and interesting. Many fishermen were passed by the canoeists. Replying to inquiries, most of them reported fishing to be good.

Editor W. A. Crandall of West Branch was elected at the Houghton Lake meeting to succeed H. A. Chamberlain, of Standish, as treasurer.

The next annual meeting of the Association will be held in Bay City Thursday, October 12th.

Young Eagle Doing Well

Supt. Emerson Frye of Camp AuSable, says that the young eagle that was hatched last May in the AuSable state forest, is doing nicely and already has a wing spread of about two feet.

The other bird that was hatched at the same time died. It is believed that the latter had been handled by someone after which the parent birds refused to care for and feed it. A flashlight picture of the bird, showing someone holding it proved that some sneaking night prowler had taken that way to get a picture.

This must have been done after the guard, who had been placed near the nest to prevent people disturbing it, had left for the night. Wild birds and animals frequently refuse to have anything to do with their young after they have been handled by humans.

FIRE CAUSES $1500 LOSS AT CHEVROLET GARAGE

Fire that started from a short circuit in wiring in the basement of the Alfred Hanson garage caused no little excitement early Thursday evening. The short in the wiring was directly underneath the tire repair room and adjacent to the storage room where tires in stock are kept. Many of these were burned and this is what made the dense black smoke that spread throughout the building and left its imprint everywhere.

Members of the City Fire department were on the job and kept the smoke from bursting into flames, that would have resulted in a very disastrous conflagration.

The damage was estimated at about $1500.00.

'Come To Louisiana, We'll Come To Mich.'

MICHIGAN-LOUISIANA ARE UNDER-SOLD

Visiting this section of Michigan for the first time, Colonel Robert H. Brothers of New Orleans, Louisiana, was a guest in Grayling Wednesday of Messrs C. J. McNamara, O. P. Schumann and Clarence B. Johnson, who conducted Colonel Brothers and his party on a sightseeing tour of Grayling and vicinity.

Most interesting to the visitor from Dixie was the winter sports project which is being undertaken here, and he loudly praised northern Michigan's climate, beautiful lakes and natural woodland beauty.

"I have never viewed such a natural paradise anywhere in America," he stated. "With no intentions to say a word disparaging about Florida or California, I must admit, after seeing your country, that their claims are exaggerated, and yours are underestimated."

"In Louisiana we have the Evangeline country immortalized by Henry W. Longfellow in his famous poem. There her mortal remains rest, and the beauties of the Tesh country we hope to have Michigan people see in your winter time when we have sunshine and flowers. Longfellow also immortalized north Michigan in his poem Hiawatha."

"As a reciprocal plan we in Louisiana will invite our people to visit cool and green Michigan in summer. This was a project once started between your late Governor Fitzgerald and the late Senator Huey P. Long. Now that Huey's brother Earl K. Long has succeeded to the governor's chair, we expect to consummate this tourist aid program between the two states."

Accompanying Colonel Brothers were Colonel G. H. Maines, Washington newspaper man and public relations advisor, and his son Charles D. Maines of Flint.

STANDINGS OF GRAYLING STUDENTS IN COMMERC- IAL TESTS

Grass Lake, Michigan
June 22, 1939

Mr. O. P. Schumann
Grayling, Michigan
Dear Mr. Schumann:

I have just received the final report of the National Commercial Contests which my students took last March. I would appreciate it if you would print the results that the students may know what they did in comparison with others throughout the United States.

Midland and Grayling were the only Michigan cities entering students in these contests.

The highest score for Book-keeping was 385, Emil Tahvonen received a Certificate of Proficiency for a score of 332. Since certificates were not issued for scores under 330 the following students received none. Clayton Antlory, 321; John Mathews, 293; Kenneth Peterson, 286; Nellie Pynnonen, 280.

Students taking the Business Knowledge and Ability Test fared better. Scores between 100 and 127 were tabulated and certificates issued. John Mathews with seventeen others placed 7th with a score of 122. Six others receiving certificates were: Emil Tahvonen, Kenneth Peterson, Bonita DeLaMater, Nellie Pynnonen, Kathy Carr and Marian Skingley.

Although no certificates were received in Typing, first year highest score was 62 words per minute. Jean Brady made 30 net words per minute. Second year highest rate was 72 words per minute. Emil Tahvonen made 48 net words per minute which is much slower than he usually types.

I shall appreciate your putting the results in the paper and I know the students will be glad to see what they did.

Sincerely,
Eva F. Dorr.

MY TRIP TO JAPAN

First of a Series of articles by Matilda Bishop about her Goodwill Tour as a Guest of the Japanese Government. Mrs. Bishop is a daughter of Mrs. Wm. Foley of this city and principal of a Cleveland, Ohio school.

On The Challenger
San Francisco,
Enroute to Japan

Dear Home Folks:

Speeding thru Nevada—beastly hot outside but distinctly comfortable in this air-conditioned train which is carrying me to San Francisco where after a few hours at the Fair, I shall take the new Japanese liner, the "Kamakura Maru" for Yokohama.

How come you are going to Japan? Well, suppose you were a very tired teacher at the end of a strenuous year of trying to educate this modern youth. Suppose you were summoned to another tedious teacher's meeting where nothing ever happens—and then suppose a letter were read from a Japanese consul asking teachers of politics and economics to make application for a goodwill tour of Japan as guests of the Japanese Government Railways, and the Tourist Industry.

Hundreds in the U. S. and Canada applied. Detailed questionnaires were filled out. Many intimate references demanded. Suppose of all these applications, thirty were chosen and you were one! This happened to me! So I made final school records, packed bags for a summer in Japan. Saw my son graduate from high school, made a hasty trip to see my mother in Grayling, filed my will and barely caught this train. Could Eleanor Roosevelt do better than that in ten days?

What does it mean—being a guest of the Japanese Government?

I think it means a gesture of goodwill to try to recapture lost exports. I think it means that these ambitious people are eager to have real facts brought before American people. I think it means a rare opportunity to see industrial plants, schools, hospitals. I believe educators, Rotary groups, representatives of trade and government should give me a deeper understanding of the many problems in the chaos of Asia today. I hope it will include visits to old shrines of the Shinto and Buddhist religions. I hope to see the landscape gardening and flower arrangement of which I have read and studied so much. I know it means my expenses are paid as a first class passenger and total expenses while in Japan. It means I visit some twenty cities of Japan, with the possibility of a brief tour of Korea (chosen as it is now called) and Manchoukuo if events are not happening too hot and fast in that area in the weeks to come.

Are you afraid to go?

No, the problems of the Far East interest me very much. I am very eager and happy and a bit overwhelmed that so much should fall in my direction. "What will you have to do for the Japs when you get back?" Many people have asked me this question. As I have said, I go as a guest. The Japanese people are inherently courteous. I believe that this invitation only implies that I be an appreciative guest. They hope I may place a kindly interpretation upon their many ambitions. They admire the United States very greatly. They represent a unity of shining faith in their destiny in Asia and rightly or wrongly they are copying our old recipes for getting what they want. Seventy millions of these united beings live on an area about the size of California with only ten per cent of that which can be cultivated. Their ability to gain a living from the land under those circumstances should make us pause to think and in thinking realize their problems are many and grave. The beauty they achieve should make us pause to admire.

Should you have definite questions, write them to me in care of the Bureau of Tourist Industry and Japanese Government Railways, Tokyo, Japan.

Later—P. S.:

Spent a few hours at the San Francisco Fair. Treasure Island is a joy. The Foreign buildings are full of choice things. Everything beautifully planned. The beauty at night of the lighting on the Oriental theme in architectural plan, brings to those massive structures an enchantment that takes you back to the ancient dynasties along the Nile. You must see it.

Cordially,
Matilda Bishop.

Catches 61-4 Pound Rainbow

To Kenneth Peterson goes the prize for catching the largest rainbow here this season. Fishing the Manistee river above Riverview last week he hooked and landed a 6¼ pound rainbow trout. This was caught on a number 12 wet fly and landed with a three-ounce rod. He says he had a hard battle to land it. It takes a lot of skill to land a rainbow trout of that size. That's the kind that usually gets away. We congratulate Kenneth on his skill and good luck. This should win the Detroit Free Press medal.

KIWANIANS HEAR ADDRESS ON TAX PROBLEMS

"This Problem of Taxes" was the title of an address given the Kiwanians at their Wednesday noon luncheon. Harry A. Carter, representing the Michigan Public Expenditures Survey, Detroit, the speaker. His address will be printed in full in the next edition of the Avalanche. Every taxpayer and community-interested person should make it a point to read it.

Quite a number of visitors were present at the luncheon. Herbert Rowland was introduced as a new member of the club. In the absence of President Charles E. Moore, Vice President Farnham Matson presided.

GRAYLING GOLFERS 23; WEST BRANCH 12

Twenty-four golfers of the West Branch club played in competition with the Grayling players Sunday afternoon, the latter winning 23 points to West Branch's 12.

Gordon Huck of West Branch had low score for the day, turning in an 80. Roy Milnes and Carl Johnson were tied with 83 each.

Lunch was served at 5:00 p. m. in the club house.

Altho the weather was warm, the players found the course very comfortable. The greens are in splendid condition, fast and even, and the fairways are in excellent condition. We believe Grayling's course is not excelled anywhere in the north this season. Grayling players will go to West Branch for a return match soon.

FIREWORKS LAW BEING VIOLATED

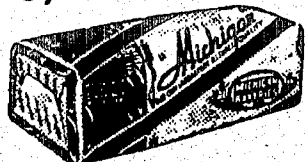

It seems that there are still some parties around Grayling who have not learned that it is not only unlawful to sell firecrackers and other fireworks, but is also unlawful to shoot them. Only last Monday there was considerable bombardment near a gas station across the golf course. Certainly a dangerous thing to do is to shoot fireworks in the vicinity of a gas station.

The fireworks law was made for the protection of the public against serious accidents. Before that law was enacted many a person was maimed or killed by fireworks each 4th of July period. The law is meant for everyone—it is a law that should be enforced. There are many interesting ways to celebrate the Fourth without fireworks.

AUSABLE AND CANOE TRIPS DESCRIBED OVER W.B.C.M.

Last week those who listened in had the opportunity of hearing Jack Redhead and Ernie Borchers in their own role over the air. Mr. Redhead and Mr. Borchers kindly consented to go to Bay City to help make the Grayling Chamber of Commerce air program a success, and they both did mighty fine in bringing to the listeners in a near view of the Ausable and its beauty, as well as to name some of the distinguished visitors that this stream has entertained. The Annual summer canoe trip was also described and advertised, and it is easy to see the place that radio has in bringing to the attention of the vacation going public the beauties and benefits of our vacation land.

The next broadcast is at the same time—12:30 a. m., and this time it is on Thursday, the 29th. Next week Grayling broadcasts on Friday at the same time, each of the six cities represented being assigned a day later each consecutive week. It might not be a bad plan for the people of Grayling to listen in at 11:30 a. m. other days over W.B.C.M., Bay City, 1420 kilocycles, to hear what our other eastern cities of the north have to offer. A comparison of their programs might be of benefit to all. Today, Thursday, Grayling sponsored a general program again.

The Chamber of Commerce has been having some difficulty in getting a permanent attendant at the information booth, but this matter is expected to be ironed out satisfactorily very shortly. The telephone number is 151 and you can telephone your information after 12 o'clock noon.

Maine Was Painted Red By Prehistoric Indians

The original spreaders of red paint in Maine were a tribe of Indians who flourished centuries before Columbus was born and whose habitat was along the Penobscot river, according to a Bangor (Maine) correspondent in the New York Times.

There once lived in Maine a mysterious people, mysterious to us, for our knowledge of them is meager, this writer says.

Seemingly they were gone even before the coming of those Indian tribes who were occupying Maine when the first Europeans visited our shores.

The little known of them has been gleaned mostly by a study of their ancient cemeteries and the enduring objects buried in them.

This scanty and somewhat indefinite knowledge may be stated as follows:

That the human beings who have been termed the "Red Paint People" were here many centuries ago.

That finely powdered hematite (red ochre) was placed in all their cemeteries and this red ochre gave them their name.

That they produced fire by cutting hard stones together and that they believed in a life after death.

That they were far from primitive as workers of stone and that their many fine edged tools imply a considerable experience in wood working.

Red Paint cemeteries in Maine include the ones at Howland, Edington, Hampden, Milford, Swanville, Bucksport, Orland, Warren, Union, Ellsworth, Bluehill, Bristol, and Sullivan falls on Frenchman's bay.

All Red Paint cemeteries discovered are near water navigable for small boats. A few are so close to streams that crumbling banks have revealed them.

Rag Sorters Find Many Valuables in Old Duds

"It's in the bag!" is an expression which has a literal meaning to workers in the Yorkshire town of Dewsbury, center of the rag trade. Rags from all over the world find their way here. They come to be sorted, graded, reduced by machinery to threads, and then reweaved into new cloth, says London Answers Magazine.

The job of rag-sorting in the warehouses is one that is full of surprises. Go into any big rag warehouse in Dewsbury, you'll hear of, and see some of the things they find "in the bag." The offices of some of these businesses are regular museums.

One of them numbers among its collection of curious things found among the rags dead rats and rabbits. These, needless to say, are not retained for exhibition purposes.

Coins are often found in the pockets of old suits and loose among the contents of the regbags. If the coins are discovered before the rags go through the machinery, then the sorters are so much better off financially; if not, the coins are usually damaged and eventually find their way to the banks and go into "retirement."

Meaning of Wet, Dry Bulb

The United States Weather bureau says: "When we speak of the temperature of the air, the dry bulb temperature is referred to; in other words, the dry bulb is the ordinary thermometer. By the wet bulb temperature is meant the temperature as shown by a thermometer, the bulb of which has been covered with a piece of muslin wet with water and from which the water has been permitted to evaporate at a rapid rate so that the lowest temperature is registered. That is, the evaporating water cools the bulb of the thermometer. With these two temperature readings and with the aid of a set of tables called psychrometric tables, the relative humidity and the temperature of the dewpoint are computed. Relative humidities and dewpoint temperatures have wide application in various fields."

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

ADVERTISING'S NO MYSTERY

SOME of us remember well when John Slattery started in business. He couldn't have been over 25 and he had only a few hundred dollars in capital. But he did have a wife and two fine boys. He wanted to make them comfortable. He quit his job, went in on his own.

Charles B. Roth

At first he would come to us and in his frank, likable way ask if we would buy from him. We liked John. It flattered us to have him invite us to become his customers. We began trading with him.

He treated us so considerably and so honestly; he gave us such good service; he was so grateful for our patronage, that we enjoyed being his customers. It made us feel good. Others felt the same way. His business grew.

Then he began asking more people to trade with him than he could reach in person. He had to run small advertisements in the newspaper, which he wrote himself after store hours.

As he grew larger he ran larger advertisements, and where in the beginning he had a handful of customers, now he had several hundred.

He continued to advertise in the newspaper. His business continued to grow. He couldn't know all his customers by name now, of course, but they felt that they could buy from him with confidence because he had been recommended to them by another friend whom they had always trusted.

This other friend who recommended John Slattery was the newspaper which carried his advertising.

Whatever you read in the newspaper you naturally feel you can believe, because you know that a reputable newspaper will not accept advertising from any but honest and reliable concerns.

Because this young man starting in business made use of that aid he built his business. As his business grew he was able to give his customers better service and more for their money.

Although few of the persons reading his advertisements and becoming his customers realized it, they were all indebted to the newspaper for its service in bringing to their attention an opportunity of getting more for their money by publishing advertisements of this enterprising young man.

Advertising is serving us in this same way every day, by bringing information of where we can buy most advantageously, by helping us to find what we want at the lowest possible prices.

Lansing—What happens when a state goes broke?

Auditor General Vernon J. Brown gives the answer in these words:

"It goes broke when its total cash on hand will not cover the total of checks drawn or to be drawn."

Just that has happened to the State of Michigan, which has finally reached the end of its financial rope.

Therein is an interesting story of how the state government has gradually assumed, more and more, the financial responsibility of maintaining services in counties, school districts, and cities, and how increased spending has drained dry the till.

Auditor General Brown presents the picture frankly, comparing the state's budget needs with those of the average family which must stretch income to meet expenses or incur an embarrassing deficit and prospect of bankruptcy.

Once Self-Supporting

"Back in 1933 the local units of government were self-supporting," the state official explains in an article prepared for the Ingham County News at Mason, of which he is the publisher.

"Perhaps these might also be called the uncles and aunts who came to live with Mr. and Mrs. Michigan. Or perhaps these local units of government might be the married children and their offspring coming to live with their parents. In any event, the total of all revenues collected by the state and transmitted to counties, cities and school districts prior to 1932 did not exceed $40,000,000 a year.

"In 1938 almost exactly one-half of all the money the state of Michigan collected, more than a hundred million dollars, was earmarked and by law was merely collected for and turned over to counties, school districts, cities and townships to be spent by local officials for purposes which formerly were supported entirely from taxes spread locally by local officials or for new purposes conceived since the state at large became a Santa Claus.

"New school aids provided since 1933 consume more than $25,000,000 a year. Demands of county and city relief commissions, always before 1933 supported from local taxes alone, each year absorb nearly $40,000,000 of state cash. Another $30,000,000 goes direct and immediately into county road coffers.

State Increase Slight

"So when one deducts this $65,000,000 of new grants-in-aid set up since 1933, plus increased aid to county road commissions since 1932, it is discovered that the actual increase in those functions of state government which existed back in 1933 costs but slightly more than then.

"Now let us go back and get these figures in mind once again. Expenses piling up. Income going down. How many people have faced this condition in their own affairs during recent years? What did they do about it? They cut expenses, or faced disaster. The careful business man who faced that condition either stimulated his business income or cut his expenses to what he took in.

"The state has not done that. Faced with a suddenly reduced state income when the strikes aimed their deadly blows at business back in 1937, the state took on new and added obligations and spent more than ever. The legislature blithely appropriated an extra $10,000,000 for relief when its coffers were already empty. That was merely legalizing embezzlement because in order to pay the bills, trust funds were used.

"And that leads up to the next step in our study.

"Michigan's constitution is very rigid in certain respects. It provides that receipts from certain specific taxes must be applied to certain specific purposes. For instance, railroad, telephone, utility and similar taxes go into the primary school interest fund to be divided between the school districts strictly in accordance with constitutional mandate. Motor vehicle and gasoline taxes are very definitely earmarked for road maintenance and improvement and cannot be expended otherwise. They should not be even borrowed for general fund expenditures, but unfortunately they are.

Borrowing from Peter

"The last sentence in the foregoing paragraph shows how the state can get so far in the red and still pay. The state merely puts these trust fund revenues temporarily in its general fund and uses the money to pay its current bills whenever the revenues intended and provided for general fund expenses fall below its general fund expenses.

"But there finally comes a time in state management just as it will in private venture when this practice leads to grief. It has happened in Michigan.

"Last January the general fund deficit stood in excess of $10,000,000. Expenses and demands upon the state since that day have each and every day exceeded daily receipts available for general fund purposes. On the last day of this present month of 1939, the general fund deficit will exceed $31,000,000. This condition is unavoidable and inescapable.

"The state can do this because its total trust fund balances exceed this sum. Red ink is offset by black ink.

Not All Funds in Cash

"But that does not explain how the state can go broke and not be able to meet its bills. Well, the explanation of this is the fact the state does not have all its funds in cash. The law provides that sinking funds carried against outstanding state obligations—highway bonds voted back in 1921, war and soldier bonus bonds, et cetera—must be invested in interest-bearing securities. This is indeed fortunate. Otherwise when the state bonds fall due there would be nothing from which to pay them and the people would thus be taxed a second time to pay the debts they represent.

"What happened last week, then, when the state went broke? Well, one morning there came into the hands of the auditor general with instructions to pay it out, all in strict accordance with law, a warrant for more than $2,000,000. The auditor general naturally inquired of the treasurer how his liquid cash stood. The auditor general found that there was only $3,400,000 cash on deposit in all the banks of the state in which the state treasurer carries his deposits.

How It Happened

"The books of the auditor general showed that checks totaling more than $2,000,000 had already been sent out but had not yet been presented to the treasury for payment. You know—outstanding warrants. Payrolls for the half-month were in preparation. These payrolls for nearly 17,000 state employees call for another million. That left less than half a million cash on hand.

"The auditor general already had held up nearly a million in refunds to cities and townships due them under the liquor control act. He also held about $650,000 of overdue bills for hospital and surgical services rendered under the afflicted and crippled children acts, awaiting the signing of a deficiency bill passed by the legislature. He knew these hospitals were in desperate need of the money. He knew that every working day there go out from his office more than 4000 checks to aged dependents—old age assistance checks—and they certainly must be paid. He knows that county welfare units must have state cash to meet the requirements of those in need. He knows that nearly 40,000 inmates of state institutions—penal, charitable, mental and corrective—must be fed, housed, clothed and guarded.

"So this is how a state goes broke."

What Is to Be Done?

In the judgment of the state auditor general, Michigan has "two ways to crawl out of the hole."

1. Have the legislature balance the budget. This means denial of demands from "pressure groups" for spending of state funds in excess of reasonable revenue expectations.

2. "Then at some time the revenues of the state might increase and the red ink items might be wiped off. Failing in this, the people, with the current budget balanced, might some day forget and forgive and authorize the issuance of time bonds to retire the old debts."

As for new taxes, legislators will probably hesitate a long time before resorting to this unpopular step. A bond issue, Mr. Brown also feels, would face certain defeat in a state referendum.

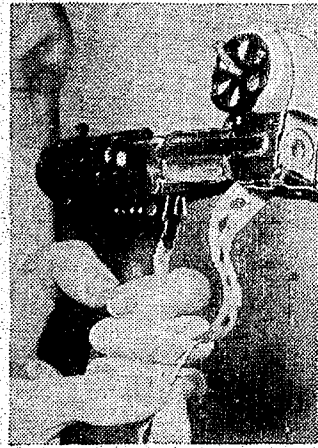

The legislature, meeting today (June 29) for final adjournment, has a "pretty kettle of fish" to stew, anyway you look at it. The auditor general's statement fully emphasizes the difficult task with which legislators today are confronted.

JULY 4TH

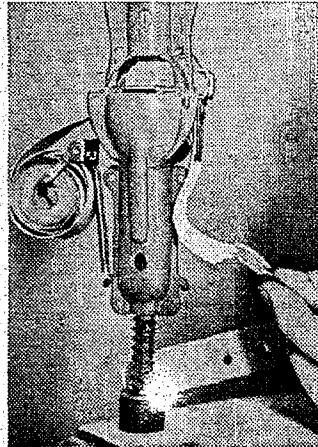

Noise—lots of loud, ear-shattering noise—is the principal ingredient of every child's Fourth of July celebration. But the danger has been removed. No longer need you worry when Junior and Sis decide to rouse the neighborhood. New mechanical noisemakers have been designed to replace exploding firecrackers and miniature bombs.

The pained expression on this young lady's face is not due to fright. The sparkler gun which she holds is guaranteed safe. It shoots out sparks, but they will not cause fire.

A paper roll is fed through this "gun." A plunger worked by compression, crashes against the paper, with the same noise effect as the smashing of an air-filled paper bag.

Working on the same principle, this gun is fastened to the end of a stick. It is fired by tapping it against the sidewalk. Manufacturers are developing more and more knock-knocks to insure a noisy, but safe and sane Fourth of July.

GUARD AGAINST SUMMER PERILS

Safety engineers of the Employers Mutual Liability Insurance Company tell us in a recent bulletin that Accident never takes a holiday. One set of hazards is merely replaced by another as the seasons change.

Everybody knows what summer hazards are, but we shall remind you of them anyway. Some unpleasant things, if remembered in this delightful season of baseball, fishing, golf, and gardening, will allow the season to pass less painfully.

So don't forget: Heat prostration, heatstroke, and sunstroke. Avoid them by doing what the doctors have said again and again—summer hygiene, summer diet, plenty of salt when exerting yourself on hot days.

Water accidents. Remember the precautions to be taken even though you can swim. Don't swim directly after a heavy meal or allow your swimming appetite to get beyond your actual prowess. And your conduct in boats—know what you are about and something about the waters you sail on. In a boat, allow the most skillful sailor to be in complete charge.

Fourth of July. Attend public fireworks exhibits. Let somebody else provide the show. Scores of children die each year as the result of handling fireworks, and thousands suffer painful burns.

Sunburn. A beautiful tan is fine, and the sun's rays are beneficial, but thousands of impetuous tan seekers suffer severe burns each year. Many of these impetuous ones who expose themselves too long the first day are obliged to spend days in bed where each time they move they are painfully reminded of their folly.

Automobiles. That Saturday afternoon hurry to get to the fishing spot, or the swimming beach, and the Sunday night drive back may be dangerous. Crowded highways, passing on hills and curves, too much hurry for the little time saved—these are common, but deadly hazards.

Automobile accidents were reduced last year, from 39,500 in 1937 to 32,000 in 1938. Why not reduce the innumerable accidents from other causes?

Seth, Traced to Hebrew, Meaning 'the Appointed'

The name Seth is of Hebrew origin and means "the appointed." The Bible Seth was the third son of Adam, writes Florence A. Cowles in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Col. Seth Warner (d. 1784) was second in command (under Ethan Allen) at the capture of Ticonderoga and rendered good service throughout the Revolutionary war. Seth W. Cheney (d. 1856) was one of the earliest American artists in black and white and his work is still highly prized by collectors.

Seth Thomas (d. 1859) started making his name one of the most familiar in the country when he founded (in Thomaston, Conn.) what developed into one of the largest clock factories in the world. Seth Boyden (d. 1870) invented a machine for splitting leather and one for making hat bodies, and he made the first malleable cast iron. During late life he developed new varieties of strawberries.

Seth Green (d. 1888) pisciculturist, superintendent of New York State fisheries, was highly successful in breeding fish for stocking lakes and streams. He introduced the shad into Pacific coast waters. Seth C. Chandler (d. 1913) astronomist with Harvard observatory, invented the almicantar (for indicating the altitude of stars) and catalogued the variable stars. Seth Pease was a member of the committee of four sent out from Hartford to investigate the Western Reserve after the first white settlers had spent a hard winter here.

Fish Change Color Fish are said to change their color according to the color of the surrounding water as it appears to them.

SWIMMER'S ITCH

With the advent of the resort season, there are certain to be reported from many lake and river beaches numerous cases of "schistosoma dermatitis," or "swimmer's itch," the source of which was a puzzle until traced by Dr. George R. LaRue, University of Michigan zoologist, to a tiny, wormlike parasite of the fresh-water snail.

In its free-swimming larval stage, the parasite escapes from the snail and looks about for a warm-blooded animal in which to complete its development. It is no respecter of persons, being quite as likely to pick a sedate clergyman for its attentions as to choose the fairest of bathing beauties. For some reason known only to itself, it will avoid some swimmers entirely.

Burrowing into the skin of its victim, it quickly dies but not before it has released a protein which eventually gives rise to hives and small boils. These render the individual decidedly uncomfortable for several days, since they are accompanied by fever and some pain, but they need cause no alarm unless through scratching, they become infected.

Unless extensive snails are present in the river, lake or pond, the itch cannot be contracted. Infected persons cannot communicate it to others through contact. Polluted water, while always to be avoided, is not productive of the itch. Indeed, Dr. LaRue has remarked that pollution, when excessive, kills the snails, and with them, their troublesome parasites.

No preventive can be offered the swimmer except the destruction of the snails which, of course, implies the destruction of the fish and other life in the water. Modern bathing fashions decree the wearing of as brief garments as the authorities will allow—doubtless to the parasite's infinite satisfaction, as it can not penetrate clothing and attacks only exposed areas of the skin.

In Michigan, because of prevailing winds, the west and northwest sides of lakes tender to foster the snail beds, usually in water six to eight feet deep and containing sand in which vegetable or other organic material is mixed. The itch is rarely or never reported from beaches on the south or southeast sides of the larger, deeper lakes. Treatment is purely symptomatic, and some relief might be obtained by applying liberally calomine lotion to the areas involved.

Meaning of Name Carlotta Carlotta is an Italian form of Charlotte, the feminine of Charles, meaning "virile," says Florence A. Cowles in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. The most famous bearer of this name was the Empress Carlotta (1840-1927) wife of the ill-starred Maximilian, executed ruler of Mexico. She was Princess Carlotta of Belgium before her marriage. Her mind broke after her husband's death and she spent the last 60 years of her life in confinement (in a Belgian castle which the Germans left unmolested during the World War) believing herself still empress of Mexico.

Mr. Chan Gregory and son Stanley and another Bay Cityite are spending a few days at Stephan's resort on the AuSable. For 57 years Mr. Gregory has been an annual guest somewhere on the AuSable. With 84 years to his credit he isn't quite as active physically as he used to be. He is still mentally alert and enjoys his friends wherever he meets them. We doubt if ever a man had as many friends, both young and old, in his home town as Mr. Gregory has in Bay City. It's a fine testimonial to this grand old gentleman.

ARABIAN TUMBLERS WITH LEWIS BROS. CIRCUS

Hassan Ben Abadidis and his troupe of Arabian tumblers, sun spinners, pyramid builders, and adagio artists will appear here with Lewis Brothers Big Three Ring Circus Friday, July 7, at the City Park show grounds.

Dressed in their native attire, and with all the color and glamour of the desert tribe, this sensational troupe makes its second annual tour with an American circus this season. Casting each other about, cavorting through the air in bird-like fashion, these dark-skinned Arabs lend a very colorful feature to the great show presented by Lewis Brothers.

The circus is making its twentieth annual tour of the United States, and its enlarged performance is presented in three rings that may easily be viewed by all those attending. Sensational aerialists, an army of funny clowns, peerless acrobats and wild and domestic animal acts all help to make up this two hour program for the circus. Going at full speed from the very first blast from the whistle of the master of ceremony, this big show brings thousands of thrills, plenty of laughter, clean entertainment, and fun for all attending.

Featured along with this great Arabian troupe are many American and European performers. A very attractive sideshow is carried with the great organization, including among its entertainers, Ma and Pa Sherman, Texas radio singers, of Crazy Water Crystal fame; the management assures all attending that no monstrosities, or hideous or vulgar attractions are found anywhere on the grounds. You need have no fear of any overcharge anywhere. The price of admission to the main show entitles you to a seat in the huge big top and admission to the menagerie. You may feel perfectly safe in sending your youngsters to the afternoon show or to the evening performance, as the uniformed attendants will see that they are properly seated and taken care of.

The show appears here Friday, July 7, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and at 8 in the evening, rain or shine. Doors open one hour earlier.

Grange Notes

The members are all busy with farm and resort work, but quite a few took time out to attend the meeting on the seventeenth. A coke contest was enjoyed and made a lot of fun.

The next meeting will be July 1 and will be an evening meeting. A good turnout is desired. Pot luck lunch.

The Grange received a ten dollar cash prize from the National Grange for the new members taken in. Also a set of officers' rituals from Master Bramble.

Making Highways Safe For The 4th

That old bugaboo of the holiday motorists—the road construction gap—will be pretty well tamed under July 4 state highway department regulations this year.

Michigan State police and the department are coordinating for the second year their efforts to expedite traffic, reduce accidents and drive the careless motorist from the highway during the holiday period.

Murray D. VanWagoner, state highway commissioner, requested district engineers to close down work on construction projects from July 1 to July 5 on all jobs where increased traffic might bring danger to motorists.

"On projects where no serious hazard is anticipated in carrying traffic through construction, you may permit work on Saturday and Monday but not on Sunday or Tuesday," VanWagoner instructed district engineers.

Commissioner Oscar G. Olander of the state police directed all his men to remain at their stations without leave during the weekend. He asked all local sheriffs and police officers to cooperate with the two state departments in the accident reduction program.

Olander said his men would be most thickly distributed on state trunkline highways and areas of concentrated traffic. State police will keep a "case history" of each hour's holiday traffic and base future campaigns on their findings.

VanWagoner asked district engineers to be sure road shoulders were safe, trees at intersections were trimmed properly, roadside parks were refurbished, gravel trunk lines were dustproofed and that detours were plainly marked.

MICHIGAN GROWING NEW FORESTS

Approximately 5,000,000 new trees, or the approximate equivalent of one tree for every Michigan resident, have been planted by the Michigan State CCC camps since April 1.

Each spring and fall planting season, the Michigan State CCC camps, in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Conservation continue the reforestation of Michigan's denuded lands by the planting of millions of pine and hardwood seedlings on State owned forests and game refuges.

Crews of CCC enrollees have been working industriously during the past two months preparing the acres for planting by "scalping" or removing the sod and weeds from small 18" square patches of ground, while other crews followed, planting a tree in each "scalped spot."

CCC soil preparation crews average approximately 850 "scalps" per man per day, while the planting crews average 900 or more trees planted by each enrollee in one day.

The pine seedling planting stock is grown by the Michigan Department of Conservation in its Higgins Lake Nursery and the hardwood planting stock in the Hardwood Forest Nursery.

SOME DAY

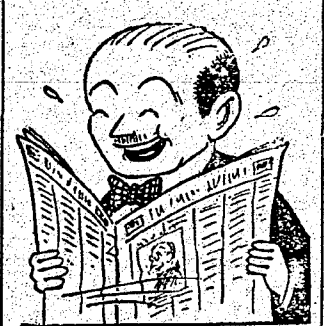

Some day, maybe this year, maybe next, but some day the real reason for the efforts being made to sabotage the administration of Muri H. DeFoe of the state liquor commission will become fully known to the public. Might it be said today that when newspaper readers are fully advised of all the intrigue and all the viciousness and all the deception and all the faking that has been going on about Mr. DeFoe since his appointment as a member of the liquor commission, they will be dumbfounded by the revelations.

Is it not a strange thing that the one person on the commission that the public has the utmost faith in, and one known throughout his lifetime for square and honest dealing, should be the object of so much public blackjacking as Commissioner DeFoe?

What is the reason for it? Some day the public will know—and the answer to that question will doubtless provide the state with some interesting reading.—Elton Eaton in Plymouth Mail.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING

Notice is hereby given that the Annual School Meeting of School District Number one (1) of Grayling Township will be held in the assembly room of the High School on Monday, July 10th, at 8:00 o'clock p. m., eastern standard time, for the purpose of electing two school officers; the terms of James McDonnell and T. Dated at Grayling, Michigan, June 28, 1939.

R. O. Milnes, Director.

Some people feel that because they have the right of way at an intersection they have a certain measure of safety.

Strict adherence to the right of way rule is sometimes very foolish.

The interpretation of the right of way rule is, generally speaking, that the vehicle arriving first at an ordinary unprotected intersection shall have the right to cross first, but that when two vehicles reach the crossing at the same time, the one on the left should give way to the one on the right. Most drivers know and observe this rule. Many abuse this privilege. They assume that the other driver will stop and let them pass.

Be careful lest you become a statistic.
